05 – TALKBACK

For the phone lines

OUR SURVEY SAID

Q Our survey said that over 70% of us admit to having a particular 'odd routine' they absolutely have to do before settling down to enjoy a lovely, new bar of chocolate, especially if it's a fancy, artisan one. What is it?

ANSWER: BREAKING IT INTO SPECIFIC, PRE-PLANNED SQUARES, OFTEN SAVING THE 'BEST BIT' FOR LAST!

Q Our survey said that over 65% of us admit to secretly 'doing' what when trying to quickly judge if a new brand of crisps will be good, even if we know it's not strictly scientific? What is it?

ANSWER: GIVING THE BAG A GOOD 'RUMMAGE AND RUSTLE' TO ASSESS THE CRUNCH POTENTIAL!

TALK TOPIC

- We all have that 'one particular type of sweet treat' that instantly transports us back to happy childhood memories – perhaps a specific brand of biscuit, a retro crisp, or a classic sweet shop pick 'n' mix. What's that one nostalgic taste that takes you right back to your younger days, and what's the story behind it?

- You know how sometimes you pick up a 'random, unusual item' in a charity shop – maybe an old board game with missing pieces, a peculiar piece of art, or a really specific kitchen gadget – and you just can't resist taking it home? What's the most unusual or unexpectedly brilliant charity shop find you've ever brought home, and what made it special?

TRUE STORY OR JACKANORY – LISTENERS GUESS

FACT Space. There is a 'space junk' problem, and scientists estimate there are millions of pieces of debris, from old rocket parts to lost tools, orbiting Earth.

FICTION Made up, but believable. Astronauts on the International Space Station can see the Great Wall of China with the naked eye from orbit, making it one of the few man-made structures visible from space.
