What's coming up

- 1 Fans of Jilly Cooper's "Rivals" can look forward to seeing her famously "macho men" on screen, but perhaps without too many tears.
An executive producer on the upcoming series revealed Cooper's playful instruction to the writers. She apparently didn't want her characters getting too emotional.
TV · UPCOMING
- 2 Get ready for a fresh take on James Bond, as a new video game promises to explore a more vulnerable side of the iconic British spy.
This upcoming game will delve into Bond's formative years, before he earned his "00" status. It offers a unique perspective on the character's origins.
GAMING · UPCOMING
- 3 "Outlander" star Catriona Balfe is setting the record straight after a US site misquoted her comments about a Scottish town.
The actress clarifies that her remarks were about "a particular place" within Shotts, not the town as a whole. It ensures her comments are understood correctly going forward.

Quick hits

1 Almost 70% of UK households now have a smart speaker — but the most common use is still 'asking what time it is'.

Researchers say we under-use the devices we own. Setting timers, playing music and weather queries make up two thirds of all commands.

2 Britain's most-stolen supermarket item in 2026 isn't meat or cheese — it's olive oil, with theft up 220% year on year.

Prices have nearly doubled in two years. Some shops have fitted security tags to single bottles, others have moved premium brands behind the counter — like cigarettes.

3 The 'silver gamer' is the fastest-growing demographic in UK gaming — over-65s spent £180 million on games last year.

Cosy life-sim titles like Stardew Valley and Animal Crossing dominate. Console makers are reportedly designing larger UI for the market.

4 The most-Googleed DIY question in Britain this year: 'how to remove silicone'.

Tradespeople say it's the rise of botched bathroom resealing jobs during lockdown that's still haunting people. YouTube tutorials on the topic have racked up 60 million views.

5 British baby names are getting shorter again — three- and four-letter names are dominating the registrar.

Top picks this year: Noa, Ezra, Ada and Bo. Long, multi-syllable Victorian names like Theodora are sliding back down the chart.

6 The average Brit checks their phone 159 times a day — but says it 'doesn't feel like that much'.

Researchers using passive monitoring apps say we badly underestimate our own usage. Most people guess between 30 and 70 times.

7 More than half of UK workers would take a 10% pay cut to never go into the office again — but only 17% of bosses say they'd offer one.

The gap is growing again after forced return-to-office rules. HR experts say the tension shows up in resignation rates, particularly for under-35s.

OUR SURVEY SAID

Q 44% of us have done THIS while waiting for a kettle to boil. What?
ANSWER: WANDERED OFF AND FORGOTTEN ABOUT IT ENTIRELY.

Q 75% of us check THIS more than ten times a day. What?
ANSWER: THE WEATHER APP.

TALK TOPIC

- If you won the lottery tonight, what's the FIRST thing you'd buy tomorrow?
Talk-back: not the dream house. Not the holiday. The first daft thing you'd buy because you finally could.
- What's the worst job you've ever had — and how long did you last?
Talk-back: the war stories are usually the funniest. Bonus marks for under a fortnight.

TRUE STORY OR JACKANORY – LISTENERS GUESS

FACT UK News. A Yorkshire farmer has won a planning row by getting his prize-winning sheep listed as 'agricultural heritage', preventing a housing development from going ahead next to his field.

FICTION Made up, but believable. A Cornish café has started charging customers extra if they ask for the WiFi password before placing their order, claiming it 'improves table turnover by 40%'.
